PRESENTED BY:

Nicole Wiesen, PhD., MSW, CCTS-I

Nicole Wiesen, PhD., MSW, CCTS-I, is a dedicated professional serving as the Regional Coordinator for the Multifaith Initiative to End Mass Incarceration. With a passion for justice and advocacy, Nicole actively champions the rights of currently and previously incarcerated individuals, as well as their families. In her role, she collaborates with faith communities across Georgia, fostering a collective commitment to creating beloved and accepting spaces. Through these partnerships, Nicole strives to establish communities that warmly embrace returning citizens, facilitating a seamless transition into society. Her work not only addresses the challenges of mass incarceration but also seeks to promote understanding, compassion, and support for those affected by the criminal justice system. Nicole Wiesen is an invaluable asset to the Multifaith Initiative, embodying a steadfast commitment to social change and community resilience.

Roughly 1.9 million people are incarcerated in the United States according to the Prison Policy Initiative (November, 2023). This course is designed to provide helping professionals with a comprehensive understanding of trauma-informed care, with a specific focus on Post-Incarceration Syndrome (PICS). Participants will explore the impact of trauma on individuals involved in the criminal justice system and learn evidence-based practices for providing trauma-informed care in various settings. The course emphasizes the development of skills and knowledge necessary for effective and compassionate practice among helping professionals with individuals transitioning from incarceration to community life.

BY THE END OF THE SESSION, THE PARTICIPANT WILL BE ABLE TO:

1. Identify characteristics of Post-Incarceration Syndrome (PICS)
2. Discover the impact of trauma of individuals involved with the criminal justice system
3. Describe an evidence-based practice that helping professionals can utilize when working with an individual who has been incarcerated

Course Interaction and Technical Requirements: This live webinar is fully interactive. Attendees may ask and answer questions throughout the presentation and participate in instructor-led discussions. A computer or mobile device is required. Zoom account is not required. You will receive an email approximately 24 hours prior to the start of the event with a link to the webinar.
